Anatomy of a General Education Session

Optimizing and Increasing COVID-19 Laboratory Testing

In Spring 2021, Nova Scotia Health's Information Management and Technology team, in collaboration with the Microbiology Lab team and the province's Department of Health and Wellness, launched a scalable electronic web form solution that interfaced with the LIS (laboratory information system). The solution meant that primary assessment centers no longer had to complete a paper lab requisition and could register patients directly into the hospital information system, which automatically generated a specimen label that included a bar code. Once the specimen was received at the lab, the bar code on the specimen label could be scanned to finalize the COVID-19 test order and patient registration. This solution allowed the lab to increase their daily testing capacity from 2,500 samples to 20,000 samples a day.

HIMSS22 Health and Safety Hub

Welcome to the HIMSS22 Health and Safety Hub. This page will be updated with information about HIMSS’ plans for health and safety policies for attendees, exhibitors, speakers, and staff at HIMSS22. Please check back frequently for news and additional guidance as we refine our planning.

Right of Entry Policy – Process Overview

In order to obtain a badge for HIMSS22, each attendee, exhibitor, speaker, and HIMSS staff member will be required to complete one of the following processes:

Option A – Voluntarily Validate and Provide Proof of Vaccination:

- Step 1: Complete an approved process to validate vaccination status. Please refer to the Right of Entry Process – Validation Options section below for additional details.
- Step 2: Present proof of vaccination validation, along with government-issued ID, to a registration area for badge pickup. During badge pickup, each attendee, exhibitor, speaker, and HIMSS staff member must confirm compliance with the HIMSS22 Health and Safety requirements, including Right of Entry Policies.

Option B – Voluntarily Provide Negative COVID Test Result:

- Step 1: Obtain a negative antigen or nucleic acid amplification (including PCR) COVID-19 test result through a local pharmacy, medical provider, or other licensed testing provider before you pick up your badge. Self-administered or at-home test results will not be accepted. The test must be taken no more than one (1) day before picking up your badge. Please refer to the Right of Entry Process – Validation Options section below for additional details.
- Step 2: Present negative test result, along with government-issued ID, to a verification area for status verification.
- Step 3: Present proof of negative COVID test verification, along with government-issued ID, to a registration area for badge pickup. During badge pickup, each attendee, exhibitor, speaker, and HIMSS staff member must confirm compliance with the HIMSS22 Health and Safety requirements, including Right of Entry Policies.

Our policies allow an attendee to voluntarily show validation of their vaccine status if that is their preference (Option A), or to voluntarily show proof of a negative COVID-19 test within one day of badge pick up, if that is their preference instead (Option B). With both Option A and Option B, at the time of badge pick up, all attendees will be asked to confirm to their compliance with the Right of Entry Policies (including the vaccine requirement) and all other HIMSS22 Health and Safety requirements.

HIMSS strongly encourages the selection Option A in order to streamline your experience. If you select Option B, however, please see the FAQ section for more details on testing and how to calculate the window for negative test result.
